Follow the Yellow Brick Road to La Mirada Theatre and You'll Find the Wizard of Oz

La Mirada, CA, April 6, 2006 – La Mirada Theatre for the Performing Arts brings “Wizard of Oz” to the stage, as part of their Programs for Young Audiences series. American Family Theater returns on Sunday, April 23, 2006, at 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. to present an original telling of the American classic. Join Dorothy, the Scarecrow, the Tin Man, and the Lion as they follow the yellow brick road to the Emerald City, through the poppy fields, the Witch’s Den, and back home again.

Programs for Young Audiences is designed to give children ages five and up and their families exposure to a diverse mix of national and international touring stage acts. La Mirada Theatre’s Executive Director, Jeff Brown, delights in seeing “...young audiences pouring through the doors of the theatre. The Programs for Young Audiences series was created to introduce young people to the stage, and for many, it is their first experience seeing a live performance.”

“Wizard of Oz” continues an ongoing series, which still includes: “Mark Nadler’s Pianomal Crackers!” on May 7, 2006.

Tickets are available for $8 or get a subscription to both of the remaining shows in the series for only $12.
